Dr David Caploe is President & CEO of the Singapore-incorporated American Center for Applied Liberal Arts and Humanities in Asia – ACALAHA

His academic credentials include: Honors AB in Social Theory – Harvard
MA in Political Science / PhD in International Political Economy – Princeton

Since September 1, David's analyses of the on-going problems in the US have been published in:
The New York Times / Yomiuri Shimbun – Tokyo / The Straits Times – Singapore

Join him for an entertaining / enlightening / empowering presentation, followed by an extensive question and answer session, where all your concerns about the situation can be aired and addressed.

The result is an experience that will immediately transform your understanding of this ever-accelerating crisis – and may help you find ways not just to survive, but possibly benefit from it.
